THE SUE RYDER FOUNDATION

Charity Registration No: 222291

FOUNDER:
LADY RYDER
OF WARSAW,
CMG, OBE

The Sue Ryder Foundation was established by Lady Ryder during the post-war years after she had been doing social relief work on the Continent. Its purpose was, and is, the relief of suffering on a wide scale by means of personal service to the sick and disabled everywhere, irrespective of race, religion or age, and thus serves as a Living Memorial to all those who suffered or died in the two World Wars and to those who undergo persecution or die in defence of human values today.

At present there are 20 Sue Ryder Homes in England with many more, including medical teams, in countries overseas. In 1987, the first Home was opened in Scotland at Binny House, Ecclesmachan, West Lothian and a further one is to be opened at Marchmont, Greenlaw, Berwickshire in the late spring of 1989. Hopefully, still more will be established. The patients cared for by the Foundation include those with cancer, both convalescent and terminal, the physically handicapped, the elderly, and the mentally ill. Domiciliary visiting is also undertaken from some Homes. Help is desperately needed, whether by way of a legacy, deed of covenant or donation in finance or kind. Also, the Foundation will be pleased to advise companies whose employees wish to contribute via the Give As You Earn Scheme.

SCIAF is the official Third World agency of the Catholic Church in Scotland. Set up by the Scottish bishops in 1965, it, through the generosity of Scottish Catholics, funds small, long-term development projects amongst some of the poorest communities in the world. Also, working through the Catholic aid network, it acts as a channel for emergency funds, whenever disasters occur.

SCIAF also runs a Lenten campaign and an educational programme in Catholic parishes and schools.

FROM THE RESTORATION OF THE HIERARCHY IN 1878
TO THE PRESENT DAY

The Apostolic Letter Ex supremo of Leo XIII, 4th March 1878, divided Scotland into the Province of St. Andrews and Edinburgh with a Metropolitan See and four Suffragan Sees of Aberdeen, Argyll and the Isles, Dunkeld, and Galloway; and the Archdiocese of Glasgow directly subject to the Holy See. The Apostolic Constitutions Maxime Interest and Dominici gregis of Pius XII, 25th May 1947, erected the Archdiocese of Glasgow into a Province, with a Metropolitan See and two Suffragan Sees of Motherwell and Paisley.

A pamphlet entitled Diocesan Map of Scotland, showing maps of each of the dioceses of Scotland, was published by The Mercat Cross in 1953.

THE PROVINCE OF
ST. ANDREWS AND EDINBURGH

The Province of St. Andrews and Edinburgh consists of the Archdiocese of St. Andrews and Edinburgh and the four Suffragan Sees of Aberdeen, Argyll and the Isles, Dunkeld, and Galloway.

ARCHDIOCESE OF ST. ANDREWS AND EDINBURGH

*The bishops associated with Kinrimumd, St. Andrews, had assumed ecclesiastical primacy in Scotland from Dunkeld by the beginning of the tenth century. The last of the Celtic bishops died in 1093; the line of the mediæval bishops began in 1109 but the Church and the bishopric were not securely established until 1144. The independence of the Scottish Church from the metropolitan claims of the archbishops of York was established by Celestine III with the Bull Cum universi, 13th March 1192. St. Andrews was erected a Metropolitan See by Sixtus IV, 14th August 1472. The See was vacant from the execution at Stirling on 6th April 1571 of John Hamilton (1547-1571) until the restoration of the hierarchy in 1878.*

PERSONAL PRELATURE OF THE HOLY CROSS AND OPUS DEI

Personal Prelatures are juridical structures of a secular character governed by a Prelate and erected by the Holy See to carry out specific pastoral or missionary activities. The general norms on personal Prelatures are contained in the Code of Canon Law—canons 294 to 297. Each has its own statutes approved by the Holy See. Opus Dei is a personal Prelature, international in its scope, which aims to spread throughout all sectors of society a deep awareness of the universal call to sanctity and apostolate in the fulfilment of one's ordinary profession or job. It is formed by a Prelate with his own clergy and by lay people, men and women, who in virtue of a divine vocation freely join the Prelature.

OBITUARIES 1988

Very Rev. Patrick Canon Gunning—15th November, 1987

The village of West Kilbride was rocked in mourning on Monday, 16th November, 1987 when their well loved priest was found dead near Portencross and tributes poured in from all sections of the community. The Canon had left a lasting impression on the whole community.

Patrick J. Gunning was born on 8th May, 1915, in Kilbane. Co. Clare. His mother died when he was only three years old and his father died when he was only ten, so Pat had a difficult road to the priesthood. He was the youngest of a family of six. There were two boys and four girls. One of the girls was a Sister of Mercy. The others were married. His brother Tommy died on 15th May, 1980.

Pat was educated at St. Flannan's College, Ennis, and St. Patrick's College, Carlow, and was ordained on 11th June, 1939, for the Diocese of Galloway. He was assistant priest at St. Joseph's, Stranraer, from 1939 to 1943 and St. Mary's, Irvine, from 1943 to 1946. He was appointed parish priest of St. Luke's, Moffat, in 1946. He moved to Our Lady of Perpetual Succour, Millport, Isle of Cumbrae, in 1948, where with great courage and a supreme effort he built a beautiful church replacing the old Stable Church. In September 1959 he moved to St. Sophia's, Galston, where he gave a faithful service till 1965. In 1965 he had the privilege of opening a new parish and founding a new community in St. Brendan's, Saltcoats. He was made a Canon of the Cathedral Chapter of Galloway on 20th May, 1976. He remained for seventeen years in St. Brendan's, Saltcoats, and decided to move to a smaller parish in 1982. He was very happy to be in West Kilbride near his favourite golf club, where he made many friends. Everyone in the club knew the Canon and loved him dearly. He was no mean golfer and never conceded defeat easily. He was a happy person with a mischievous sense of humour.

A man of deep faith, he had a great love for the Blessed Sacrament and Our Lady. To all who knew him he was a man of prayer and every parish he served will remember him for his special care of the sick, not only in their homes, but also in hospitals. He was on the road week after week, with the "Yellow Submarine" as we called it, visiting his sick in hospitals.

Clergy and laity had many a joke about his "Yellow Submarine". To his mind, it was the best car in the world. He bought it in Springside, Irvine, in 1972. Springside in those days had scarcely one Catholic resident, but to the astonishment of his friend—a parishioner, Pat produced his stole and Holy Water and solemnly blessed the car in the forecourt of the garage. Only then would he drive it home. The blessing was most effective.

His mortal remains were taken to the Cathedral on Thursday, 19th November, for the annual mass for the deceased clergy. Then he was transferred to his beloved St. Bride's, West Kilbride. His loyal grief-stricken parishioners organised an all-night vigil of prayer for the repose of his soul. On Friday, 20th November, Bishop Taylor and forty-one priests from the Diocese and friends from Paisley and Glasgow dioceses concelebrated his funeral Mass.

The little church was crowded, people stood outside and 150 people heard the service relayed into St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Bishop Taylor made it a joyful celebration of thanksgiving for the life and work of Canon Gunning. The Bishop spoke of his simplicity; his humility; and his friendliness; which earned him the affection of the communities in all the parishes in which he had served. He had served less than six years in West Kilbride and in that time he had endeared himself to all. His remains were interred in West Kilbride cemetery. Hundreds walked in procession to the cemetery where the 1st West Kilbride Boys' Brigade formed a guard of honour. After the funeral, his parishioners had a lovely meal prepared in St. Andrew's Church of Scotland Hall nearby. It was most welcome on a cold morning. The Minister, Mr. Ross Findlay, was there to welcome the Canon's friends.

Yes, the Canon had left a real impression on the village of West Kilbride. After 48 years of devoted service to his master he now deserves a well-earned rest.

To his sisters, relatives and many friends we convey our deepest sympathy on their great loss. To Mrs. Cecilia Dearing, Miss Young and all who cared for him so lovingly in his last illness our sincere thanks.

May his dear soul rest in peace.

Bishop Emeritus of Motherwell—6th December, 1987

The Right Reverend Francis Alexander Thomson, Bishop of Motherwell from 1965 to 1982, died in the Bon Secours Hospital, Glasgow, on Sunday, 6th December, 1987. At the Funeral Mass in the Cathedral Church of Our Lady of Good Aid, Motherwell, on Friday, 11th December following, prior to the interment in the Cathedral Precincts, the following homily was delivered by the Right Reverend Joseph Devine, Bishop of Motherwell.

It was fairly late in the day that I entered with some significance into the life of Bishop Thomson. For that reason alone, though there are others as well, I am very conscious that there are many here today who would more fittingly fulfil the role of speaking to his memory now.

His Eminence springs readily to mind, the Cardinal in whose former Archdiocese the Bishop was a priest for eighteen years, and for whom the Cardinal was his Ordinary for fourteen of them. From Lanarkshire there are Archbishop Winning for whom Bishop Thomson was the Ordinary for six years, or Bishop Taylor for seventeen years. Others too, from the Bishops' Conference like Bishop McGill or Bishop MacPherson who worked with him and knew him well for a quarter of a century. And then there are the priests, men like John Rogerson, a friend for almost half a century, as well as men from here who go back to days in Blairs with him.

Conscious of all of that and still more besides, I offer what I can, in appreciation, admiration and affection, for those were the ways in which I came to know him. Each of us will remember him best according to circumstances and opportunity, for he was a shy man, not easily given to small talk and even less readily given to that kind of big talk which seeks to make an impression for impression's sake. Francis Thomson was a big man physically but also in the important senses of the word. He also had a big heart, and a great love for the Church, for the priesthood and for people. But he never wore his heart on his sleeve nor sought to win popularity by subterfuge. Those were utterly foreign to his personality. Instead, his was the kind of sincerity of approach and direct straightforwardness which could be mistaken for aloofness, even the kind of cool detachment which we associate with the intellectual. He assuredly had a powerful intelligence, a sharpness of mind which went directly to the heart of issues more readily than to the vagaries of human nature. His, then, was a remarkable simplicity of approach in regard to issues which he saw with a ready ease. But he knew that people, especially priests, were not issues. Hence his diffidence in human relationships. That is why he found the worst day of his working year to be the day when he needed to change the pastoral assignments of some of the priests. He dreaded that day, agonised over it in ways which were never obvious to the clergy. It was his greatest cross as a bishop, made still more difficult by the fact that he suspected that he never managed to convey to the priests that he was acting out of an equal respect for their need as well as the pastoral needs of the diocese as a whole. Almost in proof of what I am saying, I suspect that I have expressed that agony for him more clearly than he would if he were here today. But I know it to be true since it was the subject which arose most frequently between us in quiet conversations over the past four years.

That is why I have dwelt upon it today. I do so in the form of an apologia to the priests of this diocese in the meaning of Cardinal Newman's apologia pro vita sua—but in the name of Francis Thomson.

He was born in Edinburgh on 15th May, 1917. After his early education in the city, on the death of his parents, he was entrusted to the care of two aunts who sent him to George Watson's from where he went to Edinburgh University, graduating M.A. in 1938. At that point the Lord's call was already clear to him but Archbishop McDonald required of him a period of further studies in Cambridge from which he graduated B.A. in 1940. He proceeded to St. Edmund's College, Ware, being ordained for the Archdiocese of St. Andrews and Edinburgh in the city on 15th June, 1946.

His first assignment was in St. Patrick's Kilsyth from 1946-48. As a primary schoolboy in Kirkintilloch at that time, and those who know the geography will recognise that the two towns are not far apart, I recall hearing of the fine new curate, big Father Thomson, from married relatives in Kilsyth. In 1948 he was sent to Rome for further studies in Theology at the Pontifical University of St. Thomas from which he returned in the following year with the degree S.T.L. magna cum laude. Then it was to Fife, where else but St. Andrews, for the next three years. After a short stay in St. Cuthbert's in the city for about a year, a decisive appointment was made. The Cardinal opened a new seminary at Drygrange in 1953 and Francis Thomson was appointed as a founder member of staff, first to teach philosophy to the new student community before continuing with them into the theological disciplines.

There he remained for seven years. In 1960 the rectorship of Blairs became vacant and the choice of the bishops fell on him. He was a great rector, though only there for four years. That was the verdict of the staff of the time, especially one who is with us today, Bishop Renfrew. By a great rector I mean a great educationalist in the setting of the early sixties. Education was his metier and teaching was in his blood. If I call him a great rector, it is particularly, but not exclusively, in the context of the rector/headmaster concept. He instilled, he inspired, he shone in all of the requirements of that rôle. It was a rôle which appealed to his intellectual gifts and to his nature as well. He was thoroughly at ease in that environment and rose with vision and determination to the challenge.

All too soon for him, I suspect, the needs of the Church in Scotland were to require of him a rather different service. On 8th December, 1964, the anniversary of the dedication of the Cathedral here, he was appointed to the Diocese of Motherwell, being consecrated here by Archbishop Scanlan on 24th February, 1965. Many of you will recall that day. Some will be equally vivid in their memory of the reception in the Civic Centre in Hamilton, at which, in his speech, the then Provost of Hamilton, who did not know Bishop Thomson, but knew His Grace of Glasgow, referring to him consistently as Archbishop Scanlan.

The diocese was soon to get to know their new bishop. In his first six months here he confirmed over 6,000 children before leaving for the final session of the Second Vatican Council. Now only His Eminence, Bishop Hart and Bishop McGill remain with that memory. Perhaps, predictably, at the first Synod which followed the Council in 1968, Bishop Thomson was the representative of the Scottish Bishops. At the Synod which concluded only six weeks ago I was touched by the fact that some of the oldest of those attending asked me about the very tall bishop from Scotland whom they had remembered from twenty years ago.

In the wake of the Council Bishop Thomson initiated a whole series of consultations through temporary Commissions, on some of the major themes of Vatican II—the Sacraments of Initiation, Catechetics, Liturgy and Youth. The outcome was less fruitful than he had anticipated—as was to be the case elsewhere. Perhaps it was a case of too much too soon. Whatever the reason, there was one area in which he made an abiding commitment—that of the teaching of religious education in schools. Motherwell was one of the first to establish an R.E. Centre, in the very house where I now live. The work of Father Tom McGurk and Father Paddy Purnell was of a high order and continues to deserve our thanks.

The seventies everywhere was a difficult decade for the Church. Bishop Thomson saw it through better than most. I refer here to the painful loss of priests. He was saddened by that but bore the loss without recrimination. There were, of course, compensating joys. He opened 13 new parishes and provided replacement churches in six others—the bulk of that work being in the seventies.

Throughout much of that same decade he was the founder President of the Catholic Education Commission. Having served for a time on that same commission under Archbishop Winning at a later date, I know its value to us. It is one of the most powerful agencies we have in the defence and development of the separate Catholic school system. I really doubt if that system would be as intact as it is today had we not had the protection of the Commission.

With the dawn of the eighties the rumour of a Papal Visit was in the air. This was confirmed in early '81 for the June of the following year. It was to be an immense undertaking. Someone had to be at the centre of all the planning. Really without hesitation the Episcopal Conference looked to Bishop Thomson. He put up a brave fight against his selection for that task, pleading that he was ageing fast and that it was taking all his energies to look after a large diocese like Motherwell. It was a very great commitment. Some of us were involved in one way or another and were privileged to be so. Bishop Thomson was involved with everything, endless meetings of the core group which co-ordinated the work of the fourteen sub-groups. If he were with us today he would point us away from himself to Father Dan Hart and the late John Tully. I am no less sure they would direct us back to Bishop Thomson. It really was a masterpiece of detailed planning, execution and then disengagement. He found the way to free the sub-groups to get the best out of them. All of his strengths came to the fore in that enterprise. Should a future Pope, or, dare I even say it, the present Holy Father, decide to visit Scotland again, then Bishop Thomson's blueprint is there to provide the guidelines. That is not the only way which in death he continues to live on. But more of that in a moment.

Just before the papal visit was announced Bishop Thomson moved to Motherwell, assigning the Bothwell House to the work of the Innocents. Shortly thereafter his housekeeper, Miss Nan Mothersole from Kirkintilloch, suffered a further setback to her health and she retired to Bothwell. I thank her for all her devoted service to him as I do Mrs. Mullen who succeeded her on a daily basis.

The Papal Visit took a great deal out of Bishop Thomson. Even as the Holy Father left our shores he requested that his resignation be accepted. I recall how stunned we were to hear of this at the autumn meeting of the Conference. His explanation was very typical of the man. He simply said, "physically I am slowing down, mentally I am unsure that I have the drive which the diocese now needs." His resignation was accepted on 14th December on which same date he was made Apostolic Administrator until a successor would be appointed.

On 13th May, 1983, that took place. I will never forget the simple warmth of his welcome. He was rejuvenated by the lifting of the burden of office. He made a great bonfire of all personal correspondence with the clergy as well as all out of date diocesan files. It was the first thing he told me. Literally he burned the past, not for his sake but for mine. I recall asking him what he wanted to do. He replied that he wanted to offer his services as a priest of the diocese for another five years. After that I would put him out to grass. You will recognise the authentic voice of Francis Thomson in that statement. When I asked him where he would like to go he said, "Oh, that's not a problem; the clergy have made the appointment for you. Apparently, I'm going to Biggar". "I'd love it". And love it he did. And love him they did. I hope that I dishonour him in no way by saying that I think among the happiest of his 70 years were the last four in Biggar and Forth. The rural setting, the pastoral immediacy, the contact with a real parochial community again, gave him such pleasure. They called him Father there and he responded with a will and a way. He found it easy to adapt to the simplicity of lifestyle of a country parish priest, for Francis Thomson was an utterly simple man at heart. He looked after himself in the main and rejoiced in everything, except occasionally the task of cooking rather than washing up.

He continued to play a full part in the Episcopal Conference and was a great support to me with advice in our regular phone calls and more occasional quiet meals together. Nor will the clergy here be surprised to learn that his was always the first parochial return in the annual financial accounts.

Then came 1987. In late '86 he began to allude to a growing discomfort in his leg. Initial investigations showed nothing other than circulation problems, probably due to age. Even before that he had already written to the Chancellor here, in a most amusing letter, that the high point of 1987 in the diocese of Motherwell would be 15th May, the feast of St. Isidore the Farmer, patron of Biggar, being also the Golden Jubilee of the parish.

Characteristically he concealed the fact that on the same day he would be celebrating his 70th birthday. What an evening in Biggar it was, made still more enjoyable by the presence of the Cardinal. The bishop was in terrific form despite the fact that he was due for surgery, the excision of a tumour in the lower bowel, within a few days. Completely in character he drove himself to the Law Hospital within the week. The operation, in the context of his general condition at the time, was very successful although it was to leave him with a colostomy until the end. Throughout late July and all of August he recuperated at the Cathedral before returning to Biggar in early September—more or less four years to the time when he had first arrived.

By mid-September he was re-admitted to Law Hospital where major problems in his peripheral vascular system were detected. He was then transferred to the Royal Infirmary in Glasgow and a series of amputations took place. The rest, I think, you know. The amputations were necessary to sustain his life, as indeed they did. However, the original operation in May, while successful, could not protect him against secondary cancer. With the developments of this, already advancing fast, he was transferred to Bon Secours on Sunday, 29th November. There he died, exactly one week later, 6th December, the feast of St. Nicholas.

I do not know how you capture a life of 70 years in 20 minutes—except superficially. So, finally, I want to concentrate, albeit briefly, on something more substantial. The life and death of each has an effect upon the other, so writes St. Paul. The life of Francis Thomson affected many people. As a priest it touched with significance people in parishes and students in seminaries. As a bishop it affected profoundly the Church locally and nationally. Francis Thomson was proud of this land, proud of its capital city, proud of Lanarkshire, proud of Biggar and Forth. He was interested neither in possessions nor in fame. But he was interested in that kind of service of Christ which calls for a total commitment of discipleship. In the end the Lord took him literally, testing him like gold in the furnace under the refiner's eye. For the Lord demanded everything of him, like the grain of wheat which must die if new life is to be enjoyed in the hundredfold measure.

In that process the Lord took his privacy, from this most private of men, in the way that the Bishop had to become dependent increasingly on others, even for the smallest of things. The Lord took his intellect, for in the end he was reduced to using a word or a phrase for a sentence. And the Lord even demanded of him his height as well.

Bishop Thomson never crouched. Did you ever notice that? He once told me that he often saw how exceptionally tall people sometimes tried to make themselves look smaller by developing a kind of stoop. Francis Thomson stood tall. In that, as in everything else, he was as straight as a die.

Today, we bid farewell to him in mortal terms. For at least a month, in a variety of ways to those who called to see him, he said his goodbyes. In our last meeting, on the day before he died, it was clear that death was nigh. I invited him to recognise this in saying to him that though he felt very weak he was all right where it mattered. He nodded and said, "in every important way". There was nothing else to say. What do you need to say after that?

I am delighted that all the members of the Episcopal Conference are here. No less are we delighted that such a great number of priests have joined us from this diocese and elsewhere, joined by many community representatives from other sister churches, from diocesan agencies and organisations, as well as from the civic life of the region of Strathclyde and the local districts in Lanarkshire. That will be a happy memory, on this sad day, for his few remaining relatives, to whom I offer, in the name of all, our sincerest condolences.

As Bishop here in Motherwell for over eighteen years his motto was "Sperans in Domino". In that surest of hopes do we now commend him to the Lord. Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him. May he rest in peace.

Rev. Thomas E. Frigerio, D.D.—16th December, 1987

Thomas Edgar Frigerio was born on the 18th July, 1907 in Newcastle-on-Tyne, and his family moved to Dumbarton while he was still young.

He attended Saint Patrick's school in Dumbarton and then Saint Mungo's Academy. After a year's study at Bearsden he was sent to the Scots College, Rome, and was ordained priest on 19th December, 1931.

After Ordination he was appointed temporarily to Saint Andrew's Cathedral, and then to Saint Aloysius', Springburn. He was to remain in Springburn until 1935, when he was moved to Our Lady and Saint Margaret, Kinning Park.

He served in Kinning Park throughout the years of the Second World War, but in 1946 illness forced his entry to Belmont Park Hospital, Waterford where he was to spend the greater part of his life.

He left hospital briefly in 1959 and served in the diocese of Dunkeld in the parish of Saint Patrick's, Dundee until 1961 and was moved to Saint John's, Perth.

In 1962 he returned once again to Belmont where he was to spend the rest of his life.

Father Frigerio had a varied family background—his four grandparents each had a different origin—England, Scotland, Wales and Italy. He was an intelligent man—he had a grasp of many languages which he learned by listening to “gramophone” records. He also had degrees in Philosophy, Theology, Canon Law and Church History. A fellow student remembers the sharp intellect of “Ted” Frigerio and his “haunting” of the foreign students in Rome. On one occasion he was spotted “talking Esperanto to an Ethiopian.” One of his fellow students remarked that they thought that the Ethiopian was teaching English to Ted. The speed of his conversation was infamous, and you had to pay very close attention to understand him.

His preaching is still remembered by many. His sermons were excellent, and had an effect on many who heard him. Several young men were encouraged to enter seminary by his example and prompting. His special love was for the Salesians, and he occasionally visited their seminaries.

He had a deep devotion to St. Thérèse of Lisieux which he encouraged others to share, he distributed photographs and prayer cards to many. He also had a sense of humour with his devotion; he had occasion to be working in the farm at the hospital, and named one of the cows “Thérèse”, in honour of the saint.

Father Frigerio died in Belmont Park Hospital on the 16th December, 1987, three days before his 56th anniversary of Ordination.

His Requiem Mass took place in the Chapel of Belmont Park Hospital on Monday 21st December, 1987. Father John Sheridan, Chancellor of the Archdiocese represented His Grace Archbishop Winning.

Father Thomas Edgar Frigerio was buried in the cemetery attached to Belmont Park Hospital. May he rest in peace.

Rev. John Cawley—24th December, 1987

In the days following the end of the First World War of 1914-18, the Mossend-Bellshill area of Lanarkshire provided shelter for displaced people from all parts of the world, particularly from Eastern Europe—from Poland, Lithuania and the other Baltic States. Their surnames caused difficulties to the labour clerks at pitheads and steelworks, so they changed them for sake of convenience, without deed poll or any other legal proceedings, into names like Miller, Smith, McDougall or whatever came to mind at the time. The children from these families, almost all of whom were Catholic, were enrolled at the local Catholic School where the Headmaster was Mr. Daniel, the father of the late Monsignor Joseph Daniel, and Canon John Daniel, and the Headmistress was Annie McQuillan, sister of the late Monsignor John McQuillan. The children soon adjusted themselves to changes in surroundings and made new friends with the Garritys, the Kennedys, Gogartys and Cawleys, who learned that the way to make a Lithuanian child angry was to call him a “Pole”. The school, like the parish in Mossend, was aptly named the “Holy Family” because there was a family interest in each other’s welfare, and an ambition engendered by priests, teachers and parents that their children would make full use of spiritual guidance and educational facilities to ensure success in the future. Above all, from every source, the idea of devoting one's life to God's service in the priesthood or as a religious brother or nun was given pride of place as an ideal way of fulfilling God's plan with distinction. One old priest, now retired, told me recently that when he went to Blairs College in Aberdeen as a young boy, there were thirteen others from Holy Family parish in Blairs at that time. Surely these figures speak for themselves, and show how vocations were fostered in Holy Family parish, at every level—in the home, in school and by the priests of the parish.

Those lessons did not pass the notice of young John Cawley. Although born in Mossend, his background was Irish. His father and mother came from Co. Sligo, in the West of Ireland, and his father was a reservist with an Irish regiment, the Connaught Rangers. He was called to action at the outbreak of the Great War and as far as I can recall from what John Cawley told me, his father was killed in action in France about 1917. His mother became the breadwinner, working long hours at all kinds of menial tasks to help rear John and his two sisters. She was a woman of great faith, with tremendous devotion to Teresa of the Child Jesus, and when money would run out, she would say, "Never worry, God will provide somehow". Little devotions, which are fuel to the fire of faith, like the family rosary, recited before the picture of the Sacred Heart, the holy water font at the door, to bless one's going out or coming in, were very much part of family life. There was purity in thought and word—nothing smutty, with deep respect for the dignity of the human person. All these little virtues helped to mould the character of young John, so that when he left home to enter Blairs College to study for the priesthood, he was already a proper little gentleman. Those gentle traits, which the wordly-wise might call eccentricities, were to remain part of John Cawley's make-up until his dying day.

John Cawley went to Blairs in the early twenties—in his own words—"I wasn't a star at anything, I tried my best". College life was tough in those days, but having already experienced hardship in earlier times, he accepted the rigorous régime as normal, and never criticised the harsh discipline of student life. In fact, John was the most uncritical of men, and if he hadn't anything good to say about anyone he remained silent. All this stemmed from early family training and determination to reach his goal—to be a priest, a good priest, approachable and kind.

He entered the Senior Seminary of St. Peter's Bearsden, plodding his way through the philosophical sciences for two years and then four years of theology. Monsignor Treanor was the professor of dogmatic theology, a gifted lecturer, who could simplify the most abstruse subjects to make them appear like "fervorinos" or pious talks. In Father John's own words—"I listened in admiration, but I did not realise the necessity to take notes of the lectures, they were so simple". Like the pupil of the village schoolmaster—"And still he looked and still the wonder grew, that one small head could carry all he knew". At the end of the first term when examinations were set, Father John was in an awful sweat, because he couldn't remember all those 'pious talks'. Perhaps one could say he was growing wiser "the hard way". When studies were completed at St. Peter's Bearsden, John Cawley was ordained by Archbishop Mackintosh in St. Andrew's Cathedral, Glasgow on 29th June 1934.

Father Cawley's first appointment was to the new parish of St. Teresa of Lisieux in Possilpark, which had been opened two years previously by Father John Conlon. Cawley's mother's great devotion to St. Teresa was amply fulfilled by his appointment to St. Teresa's. Priests and people were in the same boat, as it were, because the Chapel House was "up a close" in Saracen Street. However, after about six weeks in St. Teresa's, he was transferred to St. Roch's, Garngad, where he was assistant for almost seventeen years. To City Fathers, Garngad was an evil name, but to the people of "the Garngad" it was the home of the "salt of the earth", and the birthplace of the true Glaswegian. The police on the beat in those days were able to administer their own brand of reprimand, strictly forbidden nowadays, but the threat of "I'll tell Father Cawley about you" was much more effective. His interest in children and in the youth particularly was a byword in the area. From his own resources he bought a "talkie" cinematograph and he was able to fill the hall to overflowing with pictures of the heroes of the day—Tom Mix and Tony; Charlie Chaplin; Laurel and Hardy, and Westerns galore. The shouts of the children enjoying themselves, drowned the words of the actors—"Watch your back!" 'Boo' 'Dree-umpy-dum' " and various other local expressions made the audience part of the film. Father Cawley enjoyed it just as much as the children. He was really a child at heart. No one spent more money on the children of Garngad than he did. There were some who even suggested that he had won the Irish Sweep, but if he did, then that was a secret which he took with him to the grave. However, whether he won the sweep or not is immaterial—there was a spirit inside the man which prompted him to give and keep on giving. He shared what he had with others, and he was always good for "a tap". If he was conned, he never let it worry him because he recognised that a reward awaited anyone who would give even a cup of water to someone in need, in the name of the Lord. When the cinema shows came to a rather unfortunate end, Cawley sponsored amateur boxing, and very soon St. Roch's boxing club was producing champions by the dozen. There were many good Catholics, and priests too, who disapproved of boxing, but to John it was the "noble art of self-defence; and its virtue lay not so much in clouting an opponent but rather in avoiding being hit. In the opinion of Father John, he had the idea that having a healthy mind in a healthy body was supremely important, and he was able to use club meetings as an opportunity for stressing the importance of assistance at Sunday Mass and frequent use of the Sacraments as a means of living a full Christian life, because Christ is the life of the soul, and a soul which is dead through sin is displeasing to God.

The war years of 1939-45 brought havoc to Garngad. Compulsory military service disrupted families and the cream of the youth were to be found wherever the fighting was fiercest. Many never returned and in comforting families who suffered bereavement, no-one showed greater concern and love than Father John. There are many who still recall how much his sympathetic words meant to them, because he himself knew from personal experience what damage can result from the loss of a son or daughter, but more especially the loss of a father.

Father Cawley's seventeen years of priestly labour in St. Roch's ended in January 1951, when he was transferred to St. Peter's, Partick. This was decidedly up-market in comparison with the Garngad, by this time re-named Royston, and "wally closes" in Hyndland and Broomhill were a change indeed from the white-washed pipe-clay closes of Garngad tenements. Still the work of a priest goes on an on, no matter how much the circumstances or environment may change. One of the most demanding duties in St. Peter's was the chaplaincy of the Western Infirmary. Each priest had to take his turn on call, and this work provided a new challenge and a new sphere of activity for Father John. His gentle approach and his comforting bedside manner made him a favourite among patients and staff, and his attention to the sick never flagged. As someone remarked, "His handshake and his smile were a blessing without words".

Father Cawley was given his first charge as Parish Priest in St. Bernadette's, Carntyne, in September 1955. His style never changed, even although he had to assume responsibilities which were onerous and demanding. The people in that part of Glasgow's East End found him easy of approach, with a willing ear to listen to their troubles and solve them if at all possible. His assistants in Carntyne speak of his generosity and his desire to make the presbytery a real home. He kept a good table and no-one who served with him could ever complain about lack of food, either in quantity or quality.

There were two other areas of work in which Father Cawley was engaged during these years—he was connected with juvenile panels, and his comings and goings to George Square took up a great deal of his time. That was before the present system of dealing with juvenile delinquency took over. Then there was his work as a catechetical examiner—this was an activity which he really enjoyed and before the visit of these inspectors, teachers were known to have their children pray that they would get Father Cawley to examine their class. As one teacher said—"He could get the best out of the worst pupil, he was so kind and considerate". However, following upon these Catechetical examinations, there were the dinners provided in the presbyteries to which the schools were attached. There was a kind of league table then amongst the clergy as to who would provide the most sumptuous repast. Now Father John enjoyed his food, but huge meals day after day made him aware of a weight problem and something would have to be done about it. While others would nibble and diet quietly at home, Father John took himself off to a Health Farm at Pfaffenhausen in Bavaria. There he drank "carrot" tea and ate of the very restricted variety of non-fattening foods provided. He would return refreshed, having lost weight and ready for action again. Walks in the Bavarian uplands gave him an opportunity for practising his German on the cattle in the fields—his German was not of University standard!

When his years of work in Carntyne ended, he was given charge of Our Lady and St. George's, Penilee—his first time on the South side of the Clyde. Work was easy to find in that area and the nearby Hillington Industrial Estate was enjoying an economic boom. There was an affluence around, and St. George's parishioners and parish were benefiting in consequence. But there were problems there too—problems which he found overpowering. Many of these upsets were connected with the Parochial Hall where unsavoury activities were being conducted, and Father John found them too difficult to handle. Fortunately, one of his assistants was able to rectify the situation, but the damage to his spirit and energy had taken its toll. He had lost confidence in himself, and breaks away from duty in the hope of finding a remedy were ineffective. Eventually he decided to tender his resignation as Parish Priest and retire from active duty, in November 1979. No more administrative worries—no more onerous responsibilities—time to enjoy peace and leisure at will.

Father John's years of retirement were spent in the Presbytery of St. Teresa's, Possilpark. He had his own little corner in that big house, and he enjoyed the company of priests, as always. However he was too active to sit around and do nothing. He insisted on taking his turn at Sunday Mass and was always ready to stand in for other priests during holiday periods. Latterly, however, supple joints began to stiffen with age, and celebrating Holy Mass exhausted his strength. For a man who had always been so active, this enforced idleness proved to be a cross which he found difficult to bear, and he appeared less and less in public. It was decided that he should join the company of other retired priests in Nazareth House, Cardonald, where he would receive medical treatment and care which could not possibly be provided in a presbytery. This idea did not meet with his approval at all. "I started life as a priest in St. Teresa's and I'll die in St. Teresa's", he said. The Good Lord must have heard these words because before his transfer from St. Teresa's, he suffered a massive stroke from which he never recovered. He died on Christmas Eve 1987. On the day when he was due to enter Nazareth House, December 26th, 1987, Requiem Mass was offered by Archbishop Winning, Bishop Renfrew, Bishop Mone and about 100 concelebrating priests. Bishop Mone, a former assistant of Father Cawley, preached the panegyric.

After Requiem Mass, his mortal remains were taken to St. Peter's Cemetery, Dalbeth for burial, where Archbishop Winning conducted the prayers of committal.

We loved you in life Father John, and we pray for the eternal rest of your gentle soul.

Reverend Edward Durkin—23rd December, 1987

Father Edward Durkin, parish priest of St. John's, Perth, died on 23rd December, 1987, in the 58th year of his age and the 32nd of his priesthood. Born on 19th November, 1930, in Culleen, Tourlestrane, Co. Sligo, he entered All Hallows College, Dublin, to prepare for the priesthood. According to information supplied for the 1957 issue of this Directory, he was ordained for the Diocese of Dunkeld on 17th June 1956 by the Most Reverend Michael O'Reilly of St. George's, Newfoundland. His first appointment as assistant was to St. Mary's, Forebank, Dundee, for about a year. In 1957 he was sent to the Immaculate Conception, Lochee, where he remained until 1964, when he was transferred to St. Mungo's, Alloa. About a year later, he was appointed parish priest of Holy Cross, Strathtay. While there he had built the new church of St. Bride, Pitlochry, opened in 1969. He was transferred to Forfar in 1971, to Tullibody in 1974, and finally to St. John's, Perth, in 1981. He died in Ninewells Hospital, Dundee, after a long illness. R.I.P.

The following appreciation is contributed from the Dunkeld Catholic Directory for 1988:

Edward Durkin of Tourlestrane, Co. Sligo, came to All Hallows College, Dublin in September 1956. Conscientious in the chapel and classroom, Fr. Ned will always be remembered by his fellow students for his prowess on the football field. Later he was to become a well-known and cheerful figure on the golf courses of Tayside.

He came from missionary stock. Two of his uncles were ordained for the Archdiocese of Melbourne, in the days when a holiday back home was a rare luxury, and his sister Rita went as a Marist missionary to Fiji. The Lord called Fr. Ned in the prime of his youth and manhood to serve him in the diocese of Dunkeld and, to this end, Ned was ordained in Dublin on June 17, 1956, by Bishop Scanlan of Honolulu.

He served in St. Mary's, Lochee and St. Mungo's, Alloa, before his appointment as parish priest in Pitlochry. There followed appointments in Tullibody and Forfar before his final appointment as parish priest in St. John the Baptist parish, Perth. Wherever he was located, he threw himself into his work with ardour and enthusiasm. In his visitation of his parishioners, especially of the sick and infirm, he won the hearts of the people and their undying gratitude. He was equally well liked by his fellow priests, with a ready smile and a cheerful word for everyone.

Early in 1987 Bishop Logan appointed him co-director of Renew for the diocese of Dunkeld but the Lord had other plans. Struggling with ill-health for some years, he died of cancer on December 23rd, 1987, facing death with great courage and faith. One felt that he had long since come to terms with life and with death.

A Requiem Mass was celebrated for him in St. John's, Perth by Bishop Logan of Dunkeld, Bishop Mone, auxiliary Bishop of Glasgow, a large number of priests and a congregation that overflowed into an adjacent hall, helped by closed circuit television, on Tuesday, December 29th. He was buried on the following day in his native Tourlestrane, Co. Sligo, in the presence of his mother and family.

An extract from the homily at his Requiem Mass; "And so we hand him back". We hand him back to his mother and family with gratitude, a myriad fond memories and not a few tears. We hand him back to his God who continues to love him. Very gently and humbly we commend him to the Lord, asking him to be gracious and merciful to our Father Ned. We know that he will, but we ask all the same."

May God rest the generous soul of one who was a man's priest and a priest's man.

Very Rev. Michael Canon Murnin—2nd March, 1988

Canon Michael Murnin, pastor emeritus of St. Joseph's, Bonnybridge, and sometime Provost of the Chapter of the Metropolitan Cathedral Church of St. Mary, Edinburgh, died in Nazareth House, Lasswade, on 2nd March, 1988, in the 87th year of his age and the 61st year of his priesthood. R.I.P.

At the Funeral Mass, the following homily was given by Father George Rodgers, parish priest of St. Peter-in-Chains, Inverkeithing.

The picture, inspired by the readings, of the Canon being shown to the special place prepared for him, and of his taking part in the heavenly banquet, will cause the many who know and love him to say, "That's the Canon!"

We all share in the sadness caused by his death, and our hearts go out in sympathy to his sister, Mrs. Alice O'Brien and other close relations who are here today, as well as to the parishioners of St. Joseph's Church and indeed all the people of Bonnybridge who have lost not only a good priest but also a father-figure and a much-loved friend.

Canon Michael Murnin was born in Bannockburn on 27th July, 1901. He began his education in St. Mary's school in Stirling, then went to Blairs College to begin his preparation for the priesthood, continued that in the Scots College in Valladolid and was ordained to the priesthood on 2nd April, 1927.

On returning to Scotland he began as assistant priest at St. Ninian's Church, Restalrig, assistant to Father Edward Miley, another famous parish priest of Bonnybridge. Canon then became parish priest in Jedburgh in 1930 and a few years later became parish priest at Bannockburn. During the war years he was a chaplain in the army. After the war he was parish priest of Winchburgh for ten years before becoming parish priest of St. Joseph's, Bonnybridge, on 11th February, 1956 till September 1984 when he retired and became Pastor Emeritus, and he was delighted that he could stay on in Bonnybridge. It is to the great credit of Father Desmond Lynagh, Mrs. Theresa Martin the faithful housekeeper and others who helped, that, in his illness over the past two years, the Canon was able to stay on in Bonnybridge as long as he did till there was no choice but to have him admitted to hospital. He was in Falkirk Infirmary for a few weeks, and then, about three weeks ago he went into Nazareth House, Lasswade where he was cared for by the Sisters until he died on Wednesday, 2nd March, 1988.

Two areas worthy of special mention in the Canon's life: a great deal of his time while parish priest in Bonnybridge was spent as Catholic representative on Stirling County Education Committee, attending several meetings every week for many, many years. There are representatives here at this Mass today of the Education Committee who were associated with the Canon and represent the many others who were enriched by working with the Canon. Also present today are members of the staff and pupils of St. Joseph's school here in Bonnybridge and of St. Mungo's School in Falkirk representing the many, many people who benefitted from the work of the Canon as our representative on the Education Committee.

The other area worthy of special mention is that the Canon became a member of the Cathedral Chapter from 1959 till 1985 and from 1977 had been Provost of the Cathedral Chapter. It was in that capacity that he had one of the proudest moments of his life when as a member of the official welcoming party he welcomed Pope John Paul II to visit St. Mary's Cathedral. The Canon always loved to relate how the Pope came forward, shook hands with him and said, "It is so nice to meet you." with the emphasis on "you." The Canon said, "Thank you, Holy Father." and then the Pope moved on to meet others.

Many things we admire in the Canon: his faithfulness in the priesthood, his dedication in service to God and to his people are, thankfully, true of many other priests. Other qualities we admire make him unique. He was a character. In the Canon there was complete absence of affection. If some things the Canon did appeared to be selfish, that was it, they appeared to be selfish. If things he did appeared to be unselfish, that was it, they appeared to be unselfish. There was never any attempt at pretence. Allied to that was the Canon's droll, and sometimes self-effacing, sense of humour. I remember him speaking one day about the achievements of a priest contemporary of his who'd built a Church here and a Church-Hall there, and then added, "The only thing I ever built was a coal-shed in Winchburgh. Then the local council put my rates up, so I never built any more after that." The Canon also gave the lie to the idea that old people don't like change or resist change. While he would never have been one to have initiated changes, he was very happy to accept the many changes that came from the Second Vatican Council, and would think nothing of stopping at some stage in, say, a Children's Liturgy and ask me: "What's the next bit, George?" The Canon was also a man who loved company and loved celebrations. Many a time he'd go down into the Hall to the Disco just to enjoy being there. Imagine! an over eighty year-old Canon choosing to go to a Disco to enjoy it! Of course, living to the age of eighty-six years meant that latterly, nearly every year became the anniversary of something to celebrate. In 1977 he celebrated his Golden Jubilee, in 1981 he celebrated being Parish Priest of St. Joseph's Bonnybridge for twenty-five years; in 1984 he celebrated being a Canon for twenty-five years, and last year on 2nd April, 1987 we were all glad that we could join him in celebrating his Diamond Jubilee in the Priesthood. He loved celebrations and enjoyed them thoroughly. If you asked him the next morning how he was, he oftened answered, "Better than I should be!"

I'm sure everyone will have happy memories of the Canon, will have stories to tell of how he made you smile or made you laugh, and it's great that such a person was a priest who followed Jesus Christ, the Way, the Truth and the Life. Because of our faith in Jesus Christ we know that the saying: "all good things come to an end" is not true; they only get interrupted. Our joy in knowing the Canon has been interrupted by his death. We can all look forward to joining him at yet another celebration, at the heavenly banquet.

Rev. James Dooley—21st March, 1988

Jim Dooley was born in Greenock, Renfrewshire on 15th April, 1914. He spent his early life and got his early schooling in that town. At the age of fourteen he entered Blairs College, Aberdeen, which was then and, until recently, the national junior seminary, where he began his preparation for the priesthood.

He was sent to Spain to continue his studies at the Royal Scots College, Valladolid. At the outbreak of the Spanish Civil War he and others returned to St. Peter's College, Bearsden where he completed his studies and was ordained on 29th June, 1939.

His first appointment was to St. Andrew's Cathedral, Glasgow. He served there till 1944 when he was sent to St. Augustine's, Langloan, Coatbridge. After three years in that parish he was appointed to Our Lady of Good Aid in Motherwell, soon to be the Cathedral of the new Diocese of Motherwell. It was from this cathedral parish that he joined the Royal Navy on 9th November 1951.

The places and ships in which he served were many and varied. This was a most important part of his life and it made a great impression on him for the next seventeen years. He looked upon it as a university education; one which he was very glad to have had and which he greatly savoured. He was well equipped for it.

Most priests, inevitably, meet and know many people but, perhaps, not the cross-section of society which one meets in a service such as the Royal Navy. Jim Dooley had a knowledge of this cross-section and had the understanding to go with it. He had many friends in the Navy at all levels.

If he had all this it was built on his early formation—in the home and in the Colleges at Blairs, Valladolid and Bearsden and, indeed, in the parishes in which he had served. He knew his faith and knew his own capabilities. These he developed early on. He had a good sound basic education and had made the most of it. He was well read, if not extensively. He had a good knowledge of and love for music but perhaps his forte was sport. It is significant that in addition to good reports from his commanding officers regarding the welfare of those in his charge, invariably, inclusion is made of his prowess in football, tennis, golf and cricket. He represented the Navy in these sports. Added to this he was blessed with a keen sense of humour. In a chaplain, if not absolutely essential, these were most valuable qualities.

He was proud of the people he had served with in many stations and ships—whether in shore establishments such as H.M.S. Daedalus, Lee-on-Solent, H.M.S. Raleigh, Plymouth, the Naval Air Station at Lossiemouth or in ships such as the battleship Vanguard, in the Home Fleet or the carriers H.M.S. Hermes and H.M.S. Eagle in the Far East.

He was not outwardly pious but always his Service Reports made special mention of his attention to and concern for the welfare of his flock within the Service. He was respected in the Navy and he respected it for its history, traditions, standards and the kind of men in it.

In that Service you could say he was all things to all men!. Not all chaplains can be.

On leaving the Navy in 1969 he spent a short time at St. Columba's, Viewpark before being appointed as parish priest to St. Kevin's, Bargeddie. He remained there till October 1984 when the people of St. Kevin's showed their appreciation of his service to them in their tribute and presentation to him on the occasion of his retiring to live first in St. Monica's, Coatbridge, and then in Nazareth House, Cardonald.

He died after a short illness on 21st March 1988.

We share the grief of his brother and family who survive him.

May God grant him eternal rest.

Right Reverend Alexander S. Canon MacWilliam—20th March, 1988

Alexander Stuart MacWilliam was born in the town of Buckie on the 28th May 1902 and baptised in the church of St. Peter. Not far from there is the district of the Enzie, the nursery of priests for the Scottish mission before the restoration of the Scottish Hierarchy and for many years afterwards. One can understand why Monsignor Alexander Stuart MacWilliam, as he was later known and honoured, came to love the history of the Catholic Church in Scotland. The church of St. Gregory at Preshome, for many years the normal headquarters of the Vicars Apostolic for the whole of Scotland, was a familiar worshipping place to him as was the tiny church of St. Ninian at Tynet, inconspicuously built to avoid detection in the days of persecution. From this inspiring atmosphere and encouraged by his good Catholic parents, he went to Blairs College in August 1918. His brother Lewis, at present happily and bravely serving the Diocese as parish priest of St. Margaret's, Huntly had already preceded him there. Further advanced in Latin and maths than the other students—and indeed than some of his teachers—he spent only one year at the national junior seminary before going to Scots College, Rome, on 27th February 1919. He did observe that there were ten students studying there for the Diocese of Aberdeen, eight of whom became priests.

He was the first student accepted for the Diocese of Aberdeen by Bishop Bennett and he always remembered him with gratitude for sending him to the Eternal City where he spent seven happy years. He did not take a doctorate in divinity, not because he was incapable of attaining that distinction, but because his love for the city of Rome was so great that he spent most of his final year touring its historic sites. This he never regretted for his knowledge of the architecture and history of Rome was most profound. On 27th February 1926, he was raised to the priesthood by Cardinal Pompili, in the basilica of St. John Lateran.

At the end of July, 1926, he returned to Scotland and was appointed junior curate at St. Mary's Cathedral, Aberdeen, under the guidance of Monsignor John C. Meany. There were four curates in the Cathedral in those days, and it is difficult to imagine how they occupied their time, since the city was more compact then and the number of Catholics less than today. However, they did receive a good training in gracious manners and gentlemanly conduct from their gentle and much loved parish priest.

In June 1928, Father Sandy, as he was affectionately known to his fellow priests and friends, received his first appointment as parish priest. Even he, so retiring and studious, found the loneliness of Kirkwall in those days hard to endure at times. There was only a handful of Catholics and the only way to the mainland was by sea, across the stormy Pentland Firth. A welcome relief was the yearly visitation of some 300 Irish girls from Donegal for the herring-fishing season. It was a tonic to spend a few months of the year at Lerwick attending to the spiritual needs of a lively bunch of Irish Coleens.

In 1932, the day of the Aboyne games, Father Sandy arrived at Aboyne and remained there for thirteen years. It was to Aboyne that he eventually retired, but it was a very different place from what it is today. The parishioners were thinly spread across the countryside from Banchory to Aboyne and his only means of transport was a bicycle which he religiously pushed from one end of the parish to the other.

Now comes a very happy and fulfilling time in his priestly life. When one hears of the snow blocking the road from Cockbridge to Tomintoul one wonders how Father Sandy could have been so happy in the parish of Our Lady of Perpetual Succour at Chapelton in the Braes of Glenlivet, and in the days when snow-ploughs were unheard of. But gloriously happy he was. He had his books and his peat fire and his faithful parishioners who never allowed him to want the necessities of life when the snows blocked the road, as they often did, for three months on end. Above all it was the historic associations of the place that made him feel so much at home. Like the district in which he was born it was steeped in Catholic history. Near by were the ruins of the ancient seminary of Scalán, where over a hundred priests had been ordained for the Scottish mission and where Bishop George Hay, fourth Vicar Apostolic of the Lowland District of Scotland was consecrated in 1769.

Father Sandy took a keen interest in Scalán and in 1946 he was a founder member of the Scalán Association which purchased the old seminary building and repaired the fabric so that it was saved as part of the Scottish Catholic heritage. It was here too that he began writing articles on the Highland Seminaries and on Scalán which he contributed to St. Peter's College Magazine, Bearsden, under the pen name of "Glenlivetensis".

On the 2nd August 1947, Father Matheson was consecrated Bishop of Aberdeen in succession to Bishop Bennett. Anxious to have his life-long friend and advisor at his side, he persuaded Father Sandy, much against his inclination, to leave the peace of Chapelton for the parish of St. Peter's in the east end of Aberdeen. St. Peter's was a difficult charge for such a retiring person as Father Sandy. It was a church dating back to 1803 and was served during that period by only six parish priests. He succeeded the very popular Canon Andrew Grant, a priest of exceeding charm and generosity and greatly loved by both Catholic and non-Catholic. If Father Sandy's style was different, it was no less effective. The parishioners came to love and respect him just as they did his predecessor. One thing he had in common with the priests of St. Peter's who went before him, their great generosity to the poor, and there were plenty of those in St. Peter's. In a less organized age, they had been able to use the funds of the church with a generous abandon for the good of the poor. With less freedom, Father Sandy gave of his time and his substance freely and generously.

There was a musical tradition in St. Peter's dating back to 1814 when Priest Gordon, as he was then called, introduced music in the church for the first time. Before this music was not a feature of Scottish churches. Over the years many were attracted to St. Peter's both by the vigour of its musical performance and thus by its free-lance interpretation of the liturgy. The time had come for change to a less theatrical and more subdued form of music more in keeping with the liturgy of the church. This was brought about without seriously hurting anyone's feelings.

He had a curate to help him until 1962, when the parish started to diminish because of the new housing schemes on the outskirts of the city. To be a curate with Father Sandy was a great training, and he had six curates in all. He treated them as companions and friends and was not afraid to delegate responsibility to them. He renovated the house and beautified the church and was much occupied in pointing the aged fabric.

It was from his store of knowledge and learning that those who lived with him gained their greatest advantage. In liturgy, in history, especially the history of Scotland, in architecture he was a mine of information which he imparted to others without any pretension or pride. He had no radio and in later years he also resisted the attraction of television. Books were his great love and he was surrounded by them. He did not seek honours but honours came his way. He became a Canon of the Cathedral Chapter in 1954, a Prelate of Honour 1976 and he was Provost of the Chapter from 1975 to 1977.

In September 1975, Monsignor MacWilliam retired to Aboyne, to the chapel house of St. Margaret's where he had previously lived as parish priest. His sister Anne, who had been his faithful housekeeper for many years in St. Peter's, retired with him. They were both very happy there, she looking after his needs and he reading and gardening and saying his Mass and prayers with the devotion and regularity that was a feature of his priestly life. He still pursued his reading and his writing. He had great sympathy for the "Heather Priests" who laboured in loneliness and great poverty in the glens of the Scottish Highlands, when the church was struggling for its existence. He had a particular feeling for Lachlan McIntosh, the priest of Glengairn who laboured in isolation from the day of his ordination in 1782 till his death in 1846, and he regretted that he was not able to finish a paper he was doing on his mission.

When his sister died in January 1986, he was invited by the Rev. Mother of Nazareth House, Aberdeen, to come and stay there, where he received the utmost care and devotion. That year he had a major operation in the Royal Infirmary in Aberdeen and two years later the symptoms of the same disease appeared.

In his usual methodical manner he spent the last few weeks of his life disposing of his worldly possessions to meet his Lord and Master whom he had served so well. He died very peacefully on Sunday morning, 20th March 1988.

After a Requiem Mass in Nazareth house, attended by many former parishioners and friends in Aberdeen, his remains were taken to St. Peter's church in Buckie, where the next day a Requiem Mass was concelebrated, presided over by Bishop Conti. His remains were taken to the cemetery of St. Ninian in the Enzie, where they lie next to those of other Diocesan priests.

May he rest in peace.

Rev. John Beveridge—23rd April, 1988

The death of Father John Beveridge on Saturday April 23rd, 1988, shocked the Diocese of Aberdeen. It was not only the sudden death of an apparently healthy young priest in his thirty-sixth year which had this effect, but the circumstances of his death, at a wedding on the eve of Vocations Sunday; he was both Chairman of Aberdeen Catholic Marriage Advisory Council (a daughter of a counsellor being the bride that day), and Vocations Officer for the Diocese.

Hundred of mourners gathered the following Friday at St. Peter's, Buckie, for the funeral Mass. The local paper proudly reported that "around 90 priests travelled from all over Scotland to be present". This number represents double the number of priests in the Diocese. The report continued: "the late man's parents who had returned from Australia on Wednesday, were accompanied by his two sisters and three brothers. During the service members of Buckie's choral union performed part of Verdi's Requiem. Following the service Father John was interred in the Priest's Vault at St. Ninian's cemetery, Tynet". It was evident that a very wide community mourned his death.

John Beveridge was born in Methil, Fife, on 3rd September, 1952. His family moved to Thurso while he was still a boy, his father being employed as an electrician at Dounreay Atomic Energy Establishment. He attended Thurso High School, St. Vincent's College, Langbank, and St. Mary's College, Blairs.

He received his ecclesiastical education at the Pontifical Scots College, Rome, where he attended the Gregorian University. He graduated Ph.B. and S.T.L., and was ordained priest in St. Anne's, Thurso, by the Right Rev. Mario Conti, newly ordained Bishop of Aberdeen and his former parish priest, on 7th July, 1977.

He was an assistant at St. John Ogilvie's, Alness, during the Summer of that year before returning to Rome to complete his studies. On their completion he was appointed, in the Summer of 1978, curate at St. Mary's, Inverness, which was then, under Canon Duncan Stone, in the process of a spiritual and physical regeneration. A year later, on August 26th, he was appointed parish priest of St. Francis of Assisi, Mannofield, Aberdeen. Father John remained at St. Francis' for six full years, during which time he was responsible for the building of the new Church and House, and for the setting up of a Pastoral Council. Early in his time there he taught maths at Blairs College just across the river from the parish. Wishing to have more time for pastoral concerns he was relieved of this task, and in 1982 appointed second chairman of C.M.A.C. (Aberdeen). He nurtured the growth of the young Council and was able to see prior to his death its extension to Inverness. During this time, and indeed from the earliest days of his priesthood in the Diocese, he fulfilled the role of Vocations Officer, having been nominated to this task by the Priests' Council. He took a keen interest in this work and was prepared to travel any distances to meet with potential candidates, and to attend meetings of national vocations bodies. Many actual and potential candidates came to stay with him at both Mannofield and Buckie. He was appointed, on October 18th, parish priest of St. Peter's, Buckie with the pastoral care of St. Gregory's, Preshome, and St. Ninian's, Tynet. He patiently restored the unity and confidence of the parish after a period of bereavement and internal tension, and set about the improvement of the property and the laying down of plans for the restoration of St. Peter's and the celebration of the bicentenary of St. Gregory's in 1990, after its own restoration to its pristine condition. (In 1989 this work continues with the support of the Historic Buildings and Monuments Council of Scotland). Father Beveridge was described by his bishop as "an excellent administrator, an intelligent man of pastoral zeal and fine character, devout in his faith and practice”.

Bishop Conti took for the Homily of the Requiem Mass this text from St. Paul (Romans 14, 7): “The life and death of each of us has its influence on others; if we live, we live for the Lord; and if we die, we die for the Lord, so that alive or dead we belong to the Lord.

Christ both died and came to life, (to) be Lord both of the dead and of the living.”

He pointed out that St. Paul related our living and dying both to others and to Christ himself. They had an effect on others, while Christ's death and resurrection had an effect on them. Our living and dying were transported so that through the Lord's death our life was buried with him in baptism, and through his resurrection our death was “swallowed up in victory”. Our living has its earthly sights on death, but our dying in Christ opens up the vista of eternity: “I, John, saw a new heaven and a new earth. I saw the Holy City, and the New Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, as beautiful as a bride all dressed for her husband.” (Apocalypse, 21, 1-3, the First Reading of the Mass of Requiem. That is the vision of faith, and from that perspective life and death look very different—indeed they change places in a truer sequence of events—in a deeper order of creation—in the progression which Christ has revealed and opened up to us. Christ is the way into this new order of life; “I am the gate. Anyone who enters through me will be safe: he will go freely in and out and be sure of finding pasture”. (John 10, 7-9) St. Gregory the Great, commenting on this passage from the Gospel of the Mass, remarked, “That is to say, he will go in to faith, and go out from faith to vision”. Who would wish to deny that going out into eternal pastures to one who had entered into the sheepfold through Christ by faith and baptism, and had become shepherd himself by ordination? Still, that death (of Father John) “has its influence on others”. It touches each one of us deeply. Where does it lead us? Hopefully to enter ourselves more deeply into Christ. It reminds us that our going in is so that we may freely go out, through him, into eternal pastures. The Gospel tells us: “The one who enters through the Gate is the shepherd of the flock; the gatekeeper lets him in; the sheep hear his voice; one by one he calls them out. When he has brought out his flock, he goes ahead of them, and the sheep follow because they know his voice.” (John, 10, 2-4).

Every true priest enters his ministry in this way, and becomes through Christ a shepherd of the flock committed to his care.

“I have something to tell you”—it is the priest who speaks—“I am an elder myself, and a witness to the sufferings of Christ, and with you I have a share in the glory that is to be revealed. When the chief shepherd appears, you will be given the crown of unfading glory” (1 Peter, 5, 1, 5.)

The life and death of this priest, our brother, John, has this story to tell us, this influence to bring to bear on our own lives. As for him, our prayer must be, in words he himself loved: May eagles' wings bear you up and take you to the “Holy City, the new Jerusalem, the city (where) God lives among men, (where) there is no more death, and no more mourning or sadness. The world of the past has gone”. (Apocalypse 21, 3-4).

Rev. Edward O'Hara—23rd April, 1988

Father Edward O'Hara was born in Granard, County Longford, in July 1917. After studying at St. Mel's, Longford, and St. Patrick's, Carlow, he was ordained priest on 7th June, 1942, for the archdiocese of Glasgow.

From ordination until his retirement to Knock, County Mayo, Father Néd served the "people of God" in Scotland in a dedicated and generous manner. He was appointed to Saint Augustine's, Coatbridge, in 1942, for five years. He gave of his best to young and old in that parish where his name is still, after forty years, a "household name". Because of his work those good people adopted him as a good young Irish priest determined to preach by word and example the good news of the Gospel. From 1947-1948 he continued his good work in St. Mark's, Carntyne, before being asked with the late and respected Father O'Sullivan to open the new parish of the Good Shepherd in Dalbeth. What a "half back line": O'Sullivan, Ryan and O'Hara who are all now gone to their eternal reward. They, although different in age and temperament, all had the same goal, viz. to establish this new parish on a solid foundation by knowing the people, by visiting their homes and by showing a love and concern for them. After seven years he moved on to Saint Ninian's, Kirkintilloch, where, for twelve years with seasoned campaigners Doctor Tennant, Father McGhee, Father Gerard Dunn and Father John McGinley (all again gone to their reward), Father Ned again established himself as he continued his generous work and concern in the school, hospital and parish of the area. In 1967 he came back to one of his past loved parishes as parish priest of Saint Mark's where he was only to spend three years—short years—but as ever fruitful ones, before moving on to Saint Joseph's, Tollcross.

In 1970 he was transferred to Saint Joseph's where the immediate task was to build a church. This parish was in existence from 1893 but circumstances were such that their school and church were contained in one building. This building for years gave the opportunity to thousands for education and worship—an opportunity which was availed of eagerly and earnestly and as history shows, produced good and exemplary men and women. However the remit given to Father O'Hara by the late Bishop Ward was to build a church for these good people. With his usual zeal and enthusiasm Father Ned got things moving. Here, let it be said, he found good friends in the nuns at Saint Vincent's school. They gave him a site on which to build a church and house. By 1976 the beautifully designed church was dedicated to Saint Joseph. It contains relics of the old "school church" in the retaining of the crucifix (in the sanctuary) and the stations of the cross. This was Father Ned's idea and it gave him great pleasure to marry the old with the new and give the people a place of worship in keeping with their faith and loyalty. Father O'Hara will be remembered in Saint Joseph's for the beautiful church and house but he will also be remembered gratefully for his leadership and example. He was a people's priest, a priest of the people, one who did not seek popularity at the expense of church teaching. He was strict in his own life and expected a good standard from all for whom he was responsible. He did not take easily to "change". This characteristic was not due in any way to stubbornness or insubordination but because of his highly disciplined understanding of his position as pastor of the flock, feeding them on good nourishing food.

After spending the most of seven years from 1979 working at Our Lady's shrine at Knock, Father Ned's health began to show the signs of strain and he was forced to retire. The last two years or so he spent commuting between Granard and Spain where his sister Ellen had made a home for him when he felt in need of a change.

Father Ned had many outstanding qualities—too numerous to mention—but if one in particular were to be noted it would be his sincerity. So often we will say sincere sympathy or sincere thanks but in this case we use the word in its true meaning when we say that Father Ned O'Hara was a sincere friend to all of us.

Father O'Hara died suddenly in April 1988 in his own beloved church in Granard saying his rosary with his own folk in preparation for Mass—the Mass for vocation's. The Master surely said to Ned that evening "Well done good and faithful servant, come and enjoy your rest".

Mass was celebrated in the local church by Father Sheridan, the chancellor of the archdiocese, representing Archbishop Winning. In a touching panygeric, Father Sheridan recounted many of the good things accomplished by Father Ned in the archdiocese and recorded the sincere appreciation and thanks of the archbishop, priests and people of Glasgow to a good priest. R.I.P.

Very Rev. Thomas Canon Martin—14th June, 1988

Canon Thomas Martin, retired parish priest of St. Margaret's, Gorebridge, died in Nazareth House, Lasswade, on 14th June, 1988, in the 79th year of his age and the 52nd of his priesthood. At the Funeral Mass in St. Catherine's, Gracemount, the following panegyric was delivered by Father John Ramsay, parish priest of St. Philomena's, Winchburgh.

Thomas Martin was born on 2nd February 1910 at Linlithgow in West Lothian. He started his education at St. Michael's and then feeling himself drawn to the priesthood, he applied for and was granted admission to the national junior seminary at Blairs in Aberdeenshire. He was there for four years and was then sent for his training for the priesthood to France. After a year at St. Lô, he spent five years in the Grande Séminaire at Coutances. He returned to this country in 1936 and, on July 1st of that year, was ordained to the priesthood, here in Edinburgh at St. Mary's Cathedral by Archbishop MacDonald.

His first three appointments, as curate, were short—the first, for just over a year, was at Burntisland and the other two, each for less than a year, were at Bathgate and Denny. Then, in November 1939, he got his first parish—in the Borders at St. James', Innerleithen. Here again, the appointment was short for in March 1941, he was sent to Balerno where he stayed for seven and a half years before being sent for almost 10 years to North Berwick. Then, in March 1959, as so many of you know, he came here, to St. Catherine's, Gracemount, where he worked among you for twenty seven and a half years. In 1982, he was honoured by being made a Canon. In 1985, he was sent to Gorebridge but it was not destined to be for long as his health broke down and in September 1986, he was forced to retire. His retirement, too, was not to be for long—after a short time in a house in nearby St. John Vianney's parish he went, latterly, to Nazareth House, Lasswade, where at about eleven o'clock last Tuesday morning, he went to God. Those, then, are the facts, but they tell us nothing about the man.

I first met him in 1970 when he had the extremely doubtful privilege of having me wished onto him as a lodger for a year!

And a lodger was all I really was—I had been appointed full-time chaplain to St. Augustine's which meant that five days a week I left the house early in the morning before the parish Mass, said Mass each day in the school, and then came back in the late afternoon, said some Office, had a quick bite to eat and then went out visiting—not the homes of parishioners but the homes of pupils from the school, all over the city.

Looking back on it, I think it must have been extremely irritating for him to have someone staying under his roof who ate him out of house and home and never did a blind bit of work for him except at weekends. Yet, throughout that happy year I was never made to feel anything but welcome.

I suppose I got to know him very well during that year. He was an odd mixture—even physically, because he was frail yet wiry. In fact, not to put too fine a point on it, he was as tough as old boots! Anyone else who had had his poor health and done as much work as he did, would have been dead years ago!

His nature, too, was shy and self-effacing and yet he was wonderful company and had a marvellous sense of humour. Since I left here in 1971, I have been a frequent caller, often unexpectedly and probably at very awkward times and always I met with the same warm greeting—"come in, sit down and RELAX!"—it was an order and you did relax . . . I think that those who are very close to God are relaxed sort of people and it rubs off on others . . . it rubbed off on me . . .

He wasn't just welcoming to the random caller, either, as often he invited his brother priests to share a meal with him. How often I have sat at his table, eating the lovely food cooked by the faithful Alice all those years, and then gone home saying quite truthfully, "I really enjoyed myself" and what is more I could say equally truthfully to myself, "and I behaved myself!" For, sadly, priests can gossip too, but there was no place for it at his table . . .

So he was very much a priests' man but he was pre-eminently the people's priest, as you well remember, and for the fifty years of his active priestly life, he worked himself into the ground for the people he loved wherever he went.

He never wrote any books . . . chaired any important committees . . . and, I think it is fair to say, he never preached any brilliant or spectacular sermons. But then, neither did St. John Vianney and the church holds him up to us as a model. But Tom Martin, like John Vianney, preached sermons that were very simple, down-to-earth and utterly sincere. They were, like all good sermons are—the product of hard work and prayer. And if you didn't get anything from them, you had only yourself to blame, for there was always lots to get from them.

Anyone of us who, Sunday after Sunday, in this church heard him say Eucharistic Prayer number three which he knew by heart—I don't even yet—were left in no doubt—he was PRAYING it, not saying it . . . But then he was before anything else a man of prayer . . . a man of God . . .

He had many wonderful qualities—gentle, patient, courteous, warmhearted—he was the epitome of the GENTLEMAN.

St. Paul, towards the end of his life, when he foresaw his coming martyrdom wrote to one of his assistant bishops, St. Timothy, reviewing his life in the Lord's service, and I think his words make a fitting epitaph to the man whom we are honouring today.

These were his words:—"The time has come for me to be gone. I have fought the good fight to the end; I have run the race to the finish; I have kept the faith; all there is to come now is the crown of righteousness, reserved for me on that day."

Well, this is the day, and Tom Martin has gone to collect his crown . . . May he rest in peace. Amen.

Very Rev. Mgr. Brendan H. Murphy—4th July, 1988

One of Robert Bolt's greatest scripts was—"A Man for All Seasons"—tracing the life of St. Thomas More. Brendan Murphy would be the last to consider himself saintly, but "A Man for All Seasons" he most certainly was. He was blessed both by God and nature. A man of great presence, fine physical stature, coupled with a splendid voice, an extrovert whom nature had blessed with great charm. Yet for all those who really knew him, a humble man possessed of a deep faith.

Brendan Murphy was born in Coleen, West Cork on 14th April 1916, the youngest son of Thomas and Mary Murphy. His father was lighthousekeeper of the famous Fastnet Rock. Two brothers, Kevin and Noel R.I.P. followed their father as lighthousemen. The other two, Frank and Willie, like Brendan went on to become priests. He was baptised in St. Mary's, Coleen, and so began the long and lasting relationship with Christ which grew stronger as the years progressed. Family life for the Murphy's, while disciplined, was also surrounded by love. It was a family life of prayer, devotion to the Mass and Sacraments. His father received a further appointment as Keeper of the Youghal lighthouse. Thus began an association with the place which Brendan considered his home-town, a kinship he shared with another well-known Glasgow priest, Michael Ward. After his early education, he began his studies with a view to the priesthood in 1930 at St. Colman's College, Fermoy, the Irish style of Junior Seminary. At the end of 1934, he applied and was accepted for entry to the senior Seminary of St. Peter's, Wexford. By all accounts, he was an adept student who applied himself to his studies with great intensity. He also began to expand his various talents especially in the art and power of communications which in later life was to serve him well. After completion of his formal studies he was ordained to the priesthood by Bishop James Staunton, on 9th June 1940, for ministry in the Archdiocese of Glasgow. His first appointment was to St. Joseph's Clarkston, now part of Paisley Diocese, as assistant to Father Thomas Keane and thus began a long close friendship that endured until the death of Canon Tom Keane in 1972.

Brendan spent seven happy years there developing a strong pastoral ministry under the benevolent eye of a fatherly parish priest. Despite the war and restrictive conditions much was achieved. In 1947, Father Tom Keane was appointed to St. Columba's, Hopehill Road and petitioned Archbishop Campbell if he could have Father Brendan transferred as his assistant. To the delight of both the request was granted. So began the longest association with any one particular parish; in all, he spent eighteen years in St. Columba's caring for the people with Mass, Confessions, Visitation of the Sick, the School and the homes. He soon established himself as a favourite with the people with his charm, his affable nature, his great sense of humour and his obvious enjoyment of life.

As he matured in the ministry, Brendan began to realise more and more the power and value of mass communications and felt that the Church should somehow attempt to harness some of this power for the spread of the Gospel and more importantly to have the power of the Gospel permeate the mass media. In the early 1950's, he founded The Scottish Catholic Film Institute along with some voluntary help in a small room of the then Archdiocesan Centre, Newton Place. Its purpose was to foster the showing and production of films of Catholic interest and moral value. Members had to raise funds through their own subscriptions, loan projectors to the infant S.C.F.I. and arrange teams to go round interested parishes giving film shows and talks. On occasion Gala Sunday shows were held in the Cosmo Cinema. Film making was done not only by Brendan himself, but also, most particularly by Laurence Russell, R.I.P. whose films won awards at film festivals in Glasgow. Working in co-operation with its English counterpart headed by Father John Burke and involved in the distribution throughout the parishes of Scotland of "Screen Review" edited by Father (later Bishop) Agnellus Andrew. The Institute in its short existence exercised a great deal of influence. Unfortunately, film-making and distribution is an expensive business. Eventually, lack of funds forced him and his committee, with reluctance, to inform the Scottish Hierarchy that it was no longer financially feasible to function and S.C.F.I. was dissolved.

The pioneering work of Father Murphy and the influence of S.C.F.I. were recognised in 1972 with his appointment as Papal Chaplain to his Holiness Pope Paul VI with the title of Monsignor, an honour richly deserved.

While continuing his work in the apostolate of communications, Brendan received his first appointment as parish priest when he was put in charge of the newly established parish of St. Gregory's, Wyndford in 1965. Like many another new parish priest before him, his first assignment was a green field. The task called for all his powers of organising, administration and communication. He gathered together people drawn from different parishes and blended them into a vibrant, thriving community whose loyalty was now to the new parish of St. Gregory's. The culmination of many years of hard work is the beautiful church and presbytery of St. Gregory's. One principle he always insisted upon was an open house for priests; it was an occasion for them to gather together and express themselves in brotherly comradeship; and many availed themselves of his unstinting hospitality.

There is a saying, "if you want something done, look for a busy man." In 1974 Archbishop Winning appointed Brendan to two important offices, firstly, Vicar Episcopal for Communications and Mass Media in the Archdiocese and secondly Chairman of the St. Margaret of Scotland Adoption Society. He held the position of Chairman of the Adoption Society until ill health forced him to retire in 1984. At the time of his appointment the Society was trying to strengthen its financial position and to build up reserve funds to allow for expansion. It managed to achieve all three during this period, benefiting greatly from the tremendous qualities which he had. His understanding of people and, their affection for him meant there were many willing supporters offering to join area committees. His talent for communication was evident in so many ways, particularly in connection with thoughtful improvements to the annual events such as the Children's Mass and the Annual General Meeting. His enthusiasm was infectious and all associated with the Society responded to his charm and were inspired by his sound leadership. One of the things he treasured most from his connection with the Society was the personal friendship that developed between himself and the then Treasurer, Tom Lenehan. A sincere friendship which enveloped him within a close family circle and which endured right up to his death.

As Vicar Episcopal for Communications, his main remit was to establish a Journal, Newsletter or Paper for the Archdiocese and thus was Flourish born. Like most births, it was a painful experience. It called upon all his experience with the S.C.F.I., his years as a member of the B.B.C. and I.B.A. Boards for Religious Appeals and his own innate flair for communications. He began by forming a Board of people noted for their expertise in particular fields to assist him. A particular difficulty was to avoid harm to any of the existing Catholic newspapers. Printing, like film-making, doesn't come cheaply. Once again difficulty with finance raised its ugly head. Advertisements, subscriptions, subsidies, good distribution are essential for any successful journal or paper, and above all the availability of capable people to write good articles. These and many other problems of an administrative nature would have dampened the spirits of many another mortal, but Brendan saw this as God's will for him expressed through legitimate authority. Like a loving father, he watched the infant child grow each year from strength to strength, full of high expectations for its success. If Flourish enjoys any standing today, it is due in great measure to the strength and determination of character of one Brendan Murphy.

Even in the midst of all this work, Archbishop Winning again asked him to take on another onerous task. With the retirement of Canon Gilmartin, in 1976, he was appointed to one of the largest parishes in Glasgow, Our Lady of Lourdes, Cardonald. He again applied himself there with the same vigour and enthusiasm that he brought to the "green field" of Maryhill. The Church and its surroundings were embellished, organisations were re-vamped, the liturgy was made yet more meaningful and all done with the zest and dignity that he always exuded. Unfortunately, in the early 1980's his health began to show cause for concern and he was removed to the Victoria Infirmary for major surgery. As St. Francis might have said, "Brother Death" came near to visiting him many many times, but God sought still more from him. A side effect of the heavy drugs he was given was that he became stone deaf, and so he took up the heaviest cross he was to carry—a man who delighted in the art of conversation, an extrovert, a great communicator, now deprived of one of the major means of communication—hearing. Despite many more serious operations and continuing failing health he never complained but accepted it as the cross from God who loved him. Finally, in early 1988 he acquiesced to the proposition of retirement. It was his wish to slip quietly away, but the people of Cardonald thought otherwise. A Mass and reception were organised to give recognition to all his achievements and to say farewell from the people of Our Lady of Lourdes. He in turn was delighted to tell the people of Cardonald that he would not be far away, in fact, he would be living in retirement in the next parish to them. Unfortunately, his retirement was short-lived. On July 4th he collapsed while on holiday in Troon with his two brothers Father Frank and Canon Willie and died shortly afterwards. His remains were brought back to Our Lady of Lourdes Church where Archbishop Winning, Bishop Renfrew and a large gathering of priests from near and far concelebrated Requiem Mass. It was a fitting farewell to one who was not only a great priest, but most certainly was one of nature's gentlemen.

May he rest in peace.

Rev. Bernard M. Oates—31st July, 1988

Bernard Michael Oates was born in Ballyoughter, Elphin, Co. Roscommon, Ireland the elder son of Patrick and Catherine Oates. After his early education, he received his secondary education in St. Mary's College, Summerhill, Sligo in the company of many others who were to serve God in the priesthood. He studied for the priesthood in St. Patrick's College, Carlow, and was one of a class of thirty-four ordained priests in the Cathedral of the Assumption, Carlow, 6th June, 1954.

The day of his ordination and first Mass were days of both joy and sadness—joy in being a priest but sadness because his mother was dying and unable to join him in the celebrations. His mother died on 18th June, 1954, an event that was to have lasting influence on Barney during his life.

He arrived in Scotland in August and strange to relate today "there was no room for him". He was lodged in Govan for a few weeks before a temporary appointment was found for him in St. Augustine's, Coatbridge. After a few months he was appointed to St. Columbkille's, Rutherglen, then in 1958 he returned to St. Augustine's; in 1965 he was transferred to St. Benedict's, Easterhouse. In September 1973 he received his appointment as parish priest in St. Peter's, Hamilton. In all these parishes "the big man" showed himself to be big in every way: big in kindness, big in charity, big in his concern for the young but above all else big in his love and care for the sick and dying and a jealous concern for the priesthood exemplified in his love for the company of his fellow priests and his unselfish care for them in times of illness.

It was in St. Peter's that he found a gift that no one ever thought he possessed, least of all himself. On his arrival at St. Peter's he was very happy with everything he found there but within a short time he realised that the temporary church, built in 1954, was deteriorating. In 1979 he got permission from Bishop Thomson to build a new permanent church, a difficult task compounded by the lack of ground space which meant first demolishing the existing building and then erecting a new structure on the same site. In 1981 he was joined by a happy and proud group of parishioners at the Solemn Opening of the New Church of St. Peter. For many this would have been a job well done but not for Barney. He was determined with the help of his assistant priests and parishioners to establish a truly Christian community in the area, which became only too evident in the people's attendance at Mass and other devotions in their new church. For a man not known for his thrift it came as a surprise to many that St. Peter's, Hamilton was cleared of a substantial debt at the end of 1987; as he said at the time "they are great people...", typical of the man—it was to their credit not his!

These "great people" were stunned on Friday 22nd of July to hear that their parish priest had been admitted to the Victoria Infirmary, Glasgow with a cerebral stroke, and they were to fill their church every evening for Mass to pray for his recovery. He never regained consciousness and, surrounded by his immediate family, went quietly to his Maker on Sunday, 31st July.

The attendance of Bishop Devine, clergy and people at the Requiem Mass on Wednesday, 3rd August, exemplified their respect for their dead priest. During the Mass reference was made to his great love of Our Lady and of his unselfish care for the sick and dying; and there were lighter moments when Barney was described as a prince of the roads and the sky—we all admired his love for fast cars and his skill as a pilot, and we appreciated the tribute paid to him by his co-pilots when the members of his flying club passed over the cortege at Abbotsinch, dipping their wings.

Following the Mass in St. Peter's, the cortege was taken to Ireland for the Funeral Mass and burial rites. The following afternoon, Monsignor Gillen, V.G., representing the Bishop and Diocese of Motherwell, was joined by over thirty priests from Scotland, from Summerhill and Carlow Colleges, others from parishes in Elphin Diocese. During this Mass Monsignor Gillen paid tribute to a good priest and expressed the sympathy of all to Father Bernard's brother Noel and his family. The Mass was followed by his burial beside his mother and father; he had returned "home" but left many grieving in his Scottish home.

Mary, Mother of priests, pray for him.

May he rest in peace.

Rev. Anthony Tansey—17th September, 1988

Father Anthony Tansey was born in Castlerea, Co. Roscommon on 15th February, 1927. He went to the Marist Brothers' School in Castlerea, to Belcamp College, Reheney, and studied for the priesthood in St. Patrick's College, Carlow, where he was ordained for the Archdiocese of Glasgow on 7th June 1953.

His first appointment was to St. Andrew's Cathedral and after a few months there he was appointed to St. Philomena's where he was assistant priest for twenty-seven and a half years. He was appointed parish priest of Holy Cross, Croy, in 1981 and worked there until 1986 when he retired. He died in Dublin in the Mater Hospital on 17th September 1988.

Shortly after his appointment to St. Philomena's Father Tansey suffered a severe heart attack and was told by the doctors that he had only two years to live. Perhaps one of the reasons for the beautiful personality which he developed over the years is to be found in that sentence of death. He lived for thirty-two more years under that shadow inspired with an urgency to do as much good as he could while he still enjoyed life. A story he told about himself illustrates the kind of difficulties which he faced. The story was told because of its humour and not to canvass sympathy. At times he found extreme difficulty in breathing, and on one such occasion, while out visiting the parish, he was bent double desperately trying to catch his breath. Around the corner came one of the worthies of the parish who had obviously been celebrating. "Father Tansey" he says "have you been at it too?"

In 1983 while at Croy he went through major heart surgery to repair the heart valves. He fondly imagined that the operation would restore him to the vigour and energy he had enjoyed 30 years before. He was bitterly disappointed when this did not happen. His friends felt that he never fully recovered from the operation because of the bitter disappointment at not being able to tackle the kind of things he was sure would be within his grasp with a repaired heart.

He entered hospital in Omagh in July 1988, was transferred to the Mater Hospital in Dublin. The doctors offered very little hope and he died in the Mater on 17th September. He suffered a great deal and in fact death came as a relief.

The Archbishop at the Requiem Mass which was celebrated in St. Philomena's Church described Father Tansey as a legendary figure in the area. He is indeed a legend. The Church was packed for the Mass although it was seven years since he left the parish. The Church was filled with the Catholics and the non-Catholics from the area, as well as with parishioners from Croy. Every single person in the Church could have told a moving story of how Father Tansey had helped them in their lives, of the help that they or their families had received from him. In St. Philomena's every single home has a special place in their hearts for him. Over the years their affection for him grew stronger and stronger. He won that affection because of his devotion to them. He spent countless patient hours with them, listening to their problems, giving reassurance, comfort, consolation, advice and in many cases financial help. Every home has treasured memories of his visits and of the help they received. As one man expressed it, using the Glasgow idiom "See that Father Tansey, he's magic!" He was magic, but not in the usual sense of creating illusions. His magic was supernatural—he managed to let them all know that he loved them. The secret of his magic is to be found in Sacred Scripture, in the sermon Our Lord preached at Nazareth, when he said "The Spirit of the Lord has been given to me for he has sent me to bring the good news to the poor". There were plenty of poor in the area and Father Tansey devoted himself in a special way to their needs. He not only preached the Gospel to them, he lived it in his work for them. They were invested with dignity, treated with the greatest respect. The poor were principally those not blessed with an abundance of this world's goods, but he also included among the poor, the spiritual poor, the troubled, the lonely, the bereaved, those in prison, the down and outs, those without faith, poor souls who, because of their repeated lapses had forfeited all sympathy from family and friends. All could be certain of a patient and sympathetic welcome. No matter how often they disappointed him, or let him down they continued to enjoy his respect and sympathy. He was able to identify the person of Jesus in every single one of them, he gave them the consideration and care that he would have given to Our Lord Himself. That was the inspiration for the "magic", the source of the magnetism he had for troubled souls.

It could be said that this after all is the kind of patience that every priest should have, but most priests would be the first to admit that with all the good will in the world their patience has a limit. Yes, they can forgive twice, perhaps even three times but there comes a point where patience runs out, where prudence almost dictates that the case is hopeless and should be left to the mercy of God.

Father Tansey never came to the end of his patience, he had a bottomless pit of forgiveness. For him there was no hopeless case. He became a legend because of the long hours he spent in the call room, in homes, in hospitals, at draughty street corners, in prisons, dispensing God's love to some of the most miserable people one could ever meet.

There was a constant stream of callers at the Chapel House in Provanmill and in Croy. He spent endless hours with his clients. Also not surprisingly he was a most popular confessor and brought to that ministry the same understanding kindness that distinguished all his dealings with people.

Yes, indeed he was sent to bring the Gospel to the poor. In the prayer for the anniversary of a priest's ordination he prays to Almighty God "May I be an ardent but gentle servant of your Gospel and your Sacraments". A prayer that was answered in the life of Father Tansey.

Somewhat jokingly, he was referred to in the area as "The Saint of Blackhill". He accepted this as a joke. He was ever quick to confess to human weakness, as for example a hot temper that he barely managed to keep in check at times. During that last illness he asked to be remembered in our prayers, we must not forget him in those prayers.

This obituary notice does not mention achievements. There were many of those, for instance the shrine he established in Croy, the prayer circles he ran in St. Philomena's, the relationship he established in Robroyston Hospital with staff and patients, the work he did in the schools in both parishes, the repairs he carried out to the church in Provanmill and to the church in Croy, but in both parishes and in thousands of homes his principal monument will be in the hearts of the people he loved and served.

Appropriately enough, he is buried in Castlereia on the last leg of a pilgrimage that leads to Our Lady's Shrine at Knock. He had a great devotion to Our Lady of Knock and led a few pilgrimages to it. May Our Lady take him into her care and ensure his reward for a good priestly life.

Dunkeld Marks Golden Years of Office

This month saw a number of Jubilee celebrations of priests and nuns of Dunkeld Diocese. On 12th June, Tipperary-born Father Edmund Purcell celebrated fifty years as a priest with a concelebrated Mass in St. Columba's, Derwent Avenue, Dundee, with Bishop Logan and his many priest friends of the Diocese. Originally a Pallottine Father, Father Purcell came to Dundee after the War, with Bishop Scanlan from Westminster Diocese and has served Dunkeld greatly ever since and now lives in retirement.

Sister Mary Michael of Lawside Convent of Mercy was presented with the Papal Blessing at a Mass of Thanksgiving for her fifty years in the religious life. Sharing the joy of that day were Sister Mary Michael's two sisters who are both religious themselves, members of the Holy Family Congregation. For 22 years Sister Mary Michael was Headteacher of St. Margaret's Primary School, Dundee, and has served the diocese well in education activities. Although retired from teaching Sister is a minister of Holy Communion in a Dundee parish and has also worked in the one and only parish in the Shetlands, St. Margaret's, Lerwick.

The Little Sisters of the Poor at Wellburn Home celebrated in grand style the Golden Jubilee of Sister Marie Terese. "I left home in Airdrie in March 1937," she said, "and since there were three postulants in Glasgow already, Mother Provincial sent me to Liverpool". Sister Marie Terese has been stationed three times in Dundee and this last time has spent 17 years there. Mgr. Benjamin Donachie, V.G., concelebrated her Mass with priests of the Diocese in the beautiful Chapel of Wellburn Home.

Perth's Marist community celebrated the Golden Jubilee of Sister Emer with a special Mass of Thanksgiving led by Bishop Logan and parish clergy, Father Durkin and Father Campbell. Members of Sister Emer's family as well as many parishioners and friends joined in to congratulate her. As a teacher, she worked for thirty-six years in Shannon and Charleston before coming to Scotland as Superior to the Marist House in Stirling. She joined the Perth community in 1984 where her work takes her on visits to the sick, elderly and housebound. She is also involved in parish work as a pre-baptism instructor.

A renewed commitment to Christian living was called for to mark the centenary of St. Thomas High School Edinburgh, whose headmaster is Mr. John Dames.

Pupils from the school crowded into the Sacred Heart Church, Lauriston, for the centenary Mass of Thanksgiving. They heard Archbishop Keith O'Brien speak of the proud history of the school founded by a very famous Sister of Mercy, Mary Agnes Snow.

Sunday, 7th June, 1987*Marian Year Plans

Plans for celebration of the Marian Year within the Archdiocese of St. Andrews and Edinburgh were outlined by Archbishop Keith O'Brien in St. Mary's Cathedral, Edinburgh.

The Archbishop said that the Pope seems to be drawing out at length the deepest significance of what the Second Vatican Council has taught about the special and unique place which Mary occupies in the Mystery of Christ and His Church.

Saturday, 13th June, 1987*Feast of St. Anthony

The Feast of St. Anthony, was a great historic day for the parishioners of St. Anthony's, Kirriemuir, when their beautiful new church was consecrated and officially opened by Bishop Logan, parish priest Father Eugene O'Sullivan previous priests who had served in the parish as well as many other priest guests. Before this the ever-growing congregation used a wooden chapel on the Brechin Road which they had by the strenuous efforts of Lady Lyell on land given to the Diocese by her for that specific purpose. By 1975 the chapel could hardly contain the Catholic community coming together for Sunday Mass and thanks to the kindness of the Rector and parishioners of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Forfar's Catholics met there for Sunday Mass, but it soon became obvious that a new church was badly needed. So after much discussion and hard work St. Anthony's was built on a new site.

Motherwell Diocesan Pilgrimage—Diocesan Launch of the Marian Year

One of the largest gatherings to assemble at Carfin Grotto in recent years came together on Sunday, 21st June, for the annual pilgrimage of the Diocese of Motherwell.

This year's pilgrimage was to serve as the formal launch of the Marian Year, and representatives from every corner of the diocese were present to witness and take part in a special presentation of the role of Mary in salvation history, Her role in the Church today and in our lives, and to ask Her intercession on the efforts of the Diocese during the Marian Year.

A special tableau was presented by groups, both young and old, from the diocese encompassing all areas of vocation and service within the diocese.

Solemn Dedication of the New Church of St. John The Baptist, Uddingston

The feast of the Birthday of St. John the Baptist provided the backdrop for the rite of the solemn dedication of the new church of St. John the Baptist, Uddingston, which had been opened for the first time on 21st January, 1987.

Bishop Joseph Devine was the principal celebrant and performed the rite of dedication, assisted by Father Thomas Corless, parish priest, and Father Christopher Taylor, assistant. A large number of concelebrants, led by Mgr. John Gillen, V.G., were present.

The homily was given by Father Brian Donnelly, former assistant at St. John's, and now parish priest of St. Vincent de Paul's, East Kilbride. In tracing the history of the parish he pointed the way to the future and shared his hope that the new church of St. John the Baptist would be an inspiration to all who came to worship and pray in it.

His words were echoed by Bishop Devine in his concluding remarks, when he took the opportunity to congratulate all who were involved in the planning and construction of the new church—priests, people, architects, surveyor, and contractors. The new church of St. John the Baptist, he concluded was truly a church for the 21st century, and whose like, most probably would not be seen again in our lifetime.

Marian Year in Aberdeen

A larger than usual gathering attended the Annual Pilgrimage Mass at Pluscarden Abbey in honour of Our Lady. The occasion marked the formal inauguration in the Diocese of Aberdeen of the Marian Year and the Bishop preached on this theme during the Mass. The Statue of Our Lady of Aberdeen, from Buckie, was subsequently taken to all 38 parishes of the Diocese including Shetland and Orkney (where a smaller version was substituted and taken in the Bishop's luggage on his pastoral visits!). The Statue became a focus for devotion to Our Lady throughout the year in the Diocese.

Redemptorists Mark 200 Years

Scotland's Redemptorists celebrated the bi-centenary of the death of their founder St. Alphonsus Liguori with a mass in his honour at their Monastery on the beautiful wooded slopes of Kinnoull Hill, Perth. Bishop Logan concelebrated Mass with Rector Father Heskett and Archbishop O'Brien, Bishop James Monaghan, Bishop Maurice Taylor and more than forty priests from Dunkeld and dioceses throughout Scotland. St. Columba's High School, Perth, led the singing under the direction of Mrs. Maureen Nicoll. The young voices complemented the monastic sound of the priests and brothers. Boy soprano Ross McDonald led the psalm and sang Elgar's setting of the communion motet "Ave Verum". Father Heskett expressed his thanks to all the friends of Kinnoull who had shared in this special celebration.

Following a now well established custom Bishop Conti of Aberdeen attended a Pilgrimage Mass at Fortrose which drew participants from throughout the Highland Deanery. After the Mass the faithful processed with the Statue of Our Lady into the remaining aisle of the ancient Cathedral where they sang the "Salve Regina". The Bishop concluded the week-end with Mass on Sunday evening at St. Mary's, Eskadale, where afterwards the customary refreshments were enjoyed in the open air!

St. Xavier's Primary School serves Waterside itself as well as Patna, Dalmellington and Bellsbank in Doon Valley. The population of this area has decreased drastically since the closure of the mines, so that nowadays there are only about forty children on the roll. A week's commemorative celebrations reached their culmination when, after a Mass of Thanksgiving, a considerable number of visitors (including many former pupils) enjoyed a nostalgic tour of the school which had on display a large number of old photographs and other memorabilia.

Whithorn Pilgrimage and Mass

Several thousands from all over the diocese of Galloway and beyond took part in this event, held each year on the last Sunday of August. Recent downpours had made St. Ninian's Cave inaccessible and so Mass was celebrated at a distance of a few hundred yards from the Cave, but still within sight of it. The new location meant that the pilgrims were not confronted with such a difficult walk over the stones and boulders of the foreshore. Father Willy Slavin was the homilist and he spoke on peace and justice issues (very appropriately in view of the theme of the forthcoming Renew Season).

"Listen to the voice of God", was Father Kenneth McBride's advice to the schoolchildren of Dunkeld Diocese at the annual Vocations Mass in St. Andrew's Cathedral Dundee. Father Angus MacLean, National Co-ordinator of Vocations Scotland, as well as Father Charles Adamson of Dunblane and Father Ian Mullen of Carnoustie, Diocesan Vocations Directors concelebrated Mass with a large turnout of priests from the diocese. In his inspiring sermon Father McBride asked the pupils in the congregation to consider that listening to God's voice meant also listening to those God has chosen to look after us, our parents, our teachers. To the parents and teachers Father McBride paid tribute for their tireless efforts in bring children to listen, not just frivolously hear, God's word.

The church is a landmark in Largs (being particularly prominent when seen from the sea) and its interior is also strikingly impressive. The silver jubilee of the church has been marked by the placing of a large tapestry on the apse wall, depicting the Emmaus story when the two disciples recognised Jesus in the breaking of bread.

Archbishop Winning said: "Every time education hits the headlines there are those who take the opportunity to call for an end to Catholic schools—despite the fact that leading educationalists in Scotland would regard the disappearance of our schools as a great educational loss".

He added: "I believe it is imperative now that Catholic parents are aware which of their elected representatives find Catholic schools undesirable."

The evening of the feast day saw Bishop Joseph Devine join Father Brian Logue, parish priest, Mgr. John Gillen and some 20 priests at thanksgiving anniversary Mass.

The parish of Carfin is clearly and most closely associated with the Grotto there and well known to people from all over the country who have visited the Grotto. The Marian Year has provided a great opportunity for even more visitors to come to there and experience something of the history of the past 125 years, a past of distinction and a future equally assured.

The Conscience of the Prison

At the beginning of February, the Scottish Prisons Chaplains gathered together in conference at St. Mary's Monastery Kinnoull. Bishop Vincent Logan reminded the chaplains, "You walk between the prison and the outside world". On behalf of the church and on his own behalf, he thanked the chaplains for their work and ministry. "Chaplains exercise their ministry in a unique environment," he said, "and as a result the Church looks to chaplains to link the two worlds of prison and the community in a spiritual way".

Father Andrew Mann, chaplain to Peterhead Prison and a member of the Chaplains Working Party led the meeting through the document being prepared concerning the role of Prison Chaplains. Father Gallagher, Chaplain to Barlinnie Prison following on from their led the group in the "way ahead". Throughout the two conferences there was great discussions. Father Seamus of Saughton felt chaplains had the need to inform the Bishops and the country what was happening in prison and finally Father Brian Russell shared a moment of prayer and reflection with the group.

Final Mass at Coodham

The Passionists have been at Coodham since 1949 and have been very much involved in the life of Galloway diocese during all the years since. Sadly and reluctantly, the decision was taken recently to dispose of the house and to move to smaller premises nearer Glasgow. The costs of maintenance, upkeep and repairs at Coodham had become too great a burden. On 24th February a Mass of Thanksgiving and farewell took place in the beautiful chapel attached to Fatima House. It was an occasion for sadness and nostalgia but also of appreciation for the presence and work of the Passionists in the diocese for so many years. The diocese will be very much the poorer without the facilities that Coodham offered and the generous involvement of the community there in the life of the church in Galloway.

Dedication of Shrine in honour of St. John Ogilvie, Cathedral, Motherwell

On the feast of St. John Ogilvie, a new shrine in the Cathedral, Motherwell in honour of St. John Ogilvie was solemnly opened and dedicated by Bishop Joseph Devine.

The shrine consists of a wooden carved statue of St. John Ogilvie ascending the scaffold at his execution and, according to the tradition, throwing his rosary into the crowd. One wall of the shrine recalls the story which the statue depicts, and another lists the notable dates of the Saint's life.

The statue was the work of the artist Neil Finlayson and was prepared and erected by Joseph McNally.

The Bishop stressed the uniqueness of this art-work, unparalleled in contemporary religious art.

The dedication of the statue was the final part of the restoration work in Motherwell Cathedral and indeed a fitting climax to it.

Paisley Golden Jubilee

A large congregation joined three bishops and clergy in Mass of thanksgiving marking the golden jubilee of Mgr. Matthew Provost Kinsella in St. Mirin's Cathedral, Paisley. The principal celebrant of the Mass was Bishop John Mone of Paisley with Bishop Stephen McGill retired Bishop of Paisley and Bishop Charles Renfrew, Auxiliary of Glasgow. Most of the priests were from Paisley diocese but there were many from Glasgow, Motherwell, Dunkeld and elsewhere.

The homily was given by Bishop McGill who traced the life of the jubilarian from his student days in Blairs to his role as spiritual director of the Scots College, Rome; his earlier years as assistant in Glasgow and St. Patrick's, Greenock; his charge of the then new parish of St. Andrew's, Larkfield, Greenock where he built the marvellous St. Andrew's Church which portrays the hope of the resurrection in oils. The Bishop expressed his personal thanks for his services to Paisley diocese as his Vicar General of Paisley in the past twenty years, his beautifying of St. Mirin's Cathedral as Administrator and for work in various demanding charities. Above all, said the Bishop, Mgr. Kinsella was a priestly priest and it was that priesthood which he served with Lord that gave life to the Church in the past fifty years. The music was led by Rev. Denis Carlin, Chesters College, Glasgow and the Master of Ceremonies was Rev. Thomas J. Monaghan. After the Mass there was a reception in the Cathedral Hall.

Awareness of the unprecedented wholesale slaughter of legalised abortion began to break just as the liturgical revisions of the Second Vatican Council neared completion. This little book seeks to insert the urgent need of the child in the womb into the consciousness and prayer of the thinking Christian."

There was also a strong representation of the Protestant churches of Renfrewshire. Each of the diocese's religious congregations was present. Archbishop Thomas J. Winning of Glasgow formally presided as the third Bishop of Paisley was installed. Bishop Stephen McGill formally handed over to Bishop Mone the crozier, the symbol of authority. The Papal documents were read and Bishop John Mone took jurisdiction of Paisley diocese. Bishop Mone was greeted by each of the priests as a token of loyalty.

While Chamberlain visited Hitler in Munich, Rowntrees were producing their first tube of Smarties and the BEANO was first produced, the new school building in Perth's Stromont Street marked an important step in Catholic Education in Perth. Present Headteacher Brian Toner, looked to the future. Although some of the facilities could no longer be described as modern, he suggested that teachers pupils and staff will still value the words of Mgr. The major national event to mark the Marian Year, the National Pilgrimage to Carfin in honour of Our Lady, was celebrated in the middle of an uninterrupted downpour of rain. But in spite of the terrible weather conditions more than 4000 people braved the elements to attend an outdoor Mass concelebrated by six of the Bishops of Scotland and more than 50 priests.

Archbishop Thomas J. Winning of Glasgow was the principal celebrant and sympathised with the crowd in their efforts to honour Our Lady in the Marian Year in such weather conditions.

Bishop Joseph Devine of Motherwell gave the homily, and spoke of the Marian Year as part of Pope John Paul's plan of spiritual preparation for the year 2000 and the new millennium, with the years leading up to that as a kind of protracted Advent of preparation for all.

At the end of the Mass a very wet crowd made their way home, with Scotland having marked the Marian Year in a typically Scottish way, with the weather being the winner.

This Society provides each missionary bishop with a basic grant to run his diocese and special grants to build churches, schools and hospitals and pay his catechists and teachers.

Society of St. Peter, Apostle

This Society builds seminaries and novitiates in mission lands and subsidises the education of each student.

Society for Missionary Children

Through this Society our young mission aware people are encouraged to help children in need in the many hospitals, clinic, schools, nurseries and refugee camps administered by the Church in mission lands.

Ask and it will be given to you . . .

In 1987 Aid to the Church in Need distributed the equivalent of £30 million worldwide in aid to persecuted and poor churches and to refugees. Once again God has helped us to carry out the promises which we made to those who sought our help. Their prayers and the prayers of our benefactors were answered and so we know that all the wonderful things which Jesus has taught us about the goodness of our heavenly Father are true. We can always trust in His Providence,

Please pray for those who are persecuted or who suffer for their faith and ask God to plant in all our hearts the desire to help His Church in Need.

ST. FRANCIS' LEPROSY GUILD

There are fifteen million leprosy sufferers in the world today but only three million of them receive treatment. The ravages of leprosy can be prevented if sufferers are treated early. Those already disabled can be given reconstructive surgery and false limbs; they can learn a trade or craft and so regain their independence and self respect. This is what St. Francis' Leprosy Guild is all about. It exists to support the missionaries—priests, sisters, lay workers caring for over 200,000 victims of leprosy—men, women, children—in thirty countries round the world. Their success depends on your support.
